Seen & Heard Around MURRAY

Dodger fans began to emerge Sunday afternoon after being in hiding since Thursday evening.

Aetna Life Insurance puts out a little folder which has the following statement in it:

"One price of prosperity is the high cost of living. Since 1958 the average cost of living has increased 10 per cent while the cost of hospital and medical care has grown at a much greater rate.

A little chart in the folder shows that while the cost of living since 1958 has risen 10 per cent, medical care has risen 22 per cent, hospital care cost has risen 56 per cent, doctor bills 19 per cent and dental cost has risen 17 per cent.

While we are at it food bills have risen 8 per cent and clothing 7 per cent. Housing has risen 9 per cent.

Shriver Says Press Inflated Troubles At Job Corps Camps

By MARGUERITE DAVIS
United Press International

WASHINGTON (AP) — Anti-poverty agency officials, defending Job Corps centers at Camp Beekinside, Ky., and Camp Aftersburg, Ind., charged the press with "inflated reporting" of disturbances at the two sites.

Investigations gave the life to published reports, the officials claimed.

Director R. Sargent Shriver and Otis A. Singletary, Job Corps director, made the defense in closed-door testimony Sept. 14 before a subcommittee considering the $235 million appropriation requested for the corps. An edited transcript of the hearing was made public today.

Representatives of the press were not invited to attend the hearing. Singletary conceded that the Aftersburg center was the victim of poor management, and said the absence of a vocational training program there automatically prevented proper operation of the project.

But he said his personal interviews of about 50 youths enrolled at the center did not bear out press reports which he contended indicated "running bands were beating each other up at night — all kinds of horror stories."

"It is my conviction that Aftersburg is this minute a good deal better Job Corps center than the (Continued On Page Six)

115 Attend Birthday Dinner Of Mrs. Lois Waterfield Last Week

One hundred and fifteen persons were served a three course dinner at the special occasion in honor of the 80th birthday of Mrs. Lois Waterfield at the dining room of the Holiday Inn on Thursday evening.

LI Governor Harry Lee Waterfield was the host for the dinner celebration at 6:30 p.m. A three course dinner was served from the tables decorated in the yellow and orange theme including chrysanthemums and white candles in silver holders.

A large birthday cake centered the main table where Mrs. Waterfield, her son, LI Gov. Waterfield, and her grandson, Harry Lee Waterfield, Jr., were seated along with others.

LI Gov. Waterfield was the toastmaster. He gave a special toast to his mother and she responded with a most gracious talk. She was dressed in a lovely red dress with an orchid corsage.

Other friends of Mrs. Waterfield also gave toasts in her honor. Mrs. Waterfield taught school in Calloway County before she started working with the Woodmen Circle. She has served as state manager, national committee woman, and other offices of the circle. One of her friends said Kentucky probably reached its height in the Woodmen work during Mrs. Waterfield's tenure of office as state manager.

Guests included former friends of Mrs. Waterfield in the teaching and business field.

Mrs. Waterfield has resided with Mr. Ed Pibcock at her home on West Main Street for many years. Each has her own apartment at the home.

As the guests arrived at the Holiday Inn they saw the words on the large sign out front, "Happy Birthday Mrs. Lois Waterfield."

1500 Sticks Tobacco Lost In Barn Fire

J. Michael Bucy of the Stalls Community lost about 1500 sticks of dark fired tobacco in the barn that was destroyed by fire on Friday about three p.m. on the farm of Hugh Gingles at Kirksay.

Misses Beidre Stone and Karen Carter who were out playing in the yard noticed the fire and rushed to the Gingles home to report the barn fire.

The barn was located just west of the "large" stock barn of the Gingles farm. The Gingles' formerly operated a dairy for about 25 years before changing to beef cattle.

Mrs. Gingles said this morning that Bucy had not been firing the tobacco since Tuesday due to the high winds and the cause of the fire has not been determined. The barn had three sheds and the fire was threatening the big stock barn and the milk house nearby. The roof of the milk house did catch fire, but the men of the community tore the roof off, and used the three or four long hoses of the Gingles' to keep the blaze under control.

The farm is located just north of the Kirksay Elementary School in a thickly settled part of the Kirksay community. With the high winds it was feared the fire would spread further.

The Murray Rescue Squad was called to help extinguish the flames when it was feared it would spread.

Bucy lives on the farm of the former late Lynn Lawson just south of Stalls. It is reported that the tobacco was not covered by insurance.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS ON THE COMMISSION FORM OF GOVERNMENT

Question: Under the commission form of county government will the city just "take over" the county and concentrate on the problems of the city rather than to take the county as a whole under consideration. This might be done by electing city people to the three offices of County Commissioner.

Answer: There is a possibility of electing just city people to the three offices, but on the other hand there are a number of people out in the county who have proven to be just as popular. Randall Patterson, Max Hurt, Doug Shoemaker, Hub Erwin, Thomas Scraggs, Fleetwood Crouch, John Scampa, Gordon Crouch, Luck Burt, Whit Jones, to name just a few are highly qualified to serve as commissioners. It should be remembered that whatever form of government is selected for the county, it will be for the county area outside the city primarily, in spite of the fact that the county government represents the entire county. The city government (mayor and council) deals primarily with city problems.

Two Injured As Big Semi-Trailer Hits Automobile

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Wilson of Gilbertsville Route One were admitted to the Murray Calloway County Hospital today about noon after being injured in a car-truck wreck this morning at 11 o'clock on U.S. 64 North, eight-tenths of a mile north of Almo Heights.

Guy Turner of the Kentucky State Police said Carl Wiley of Almo, driving a semi-truck-trailer, owned by Johnny Parker, was going north and applied his brakes to stop when the car in front of him slowed. Turner said the truck jackknifed and he went across the road and hit the Wilson car, a 1965 Chevrolet, that was going south.

The car was pushed into the ditch by the impact. Turner said the Wilson car swerved to try to keep from being hit by the truck. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and their two children were in the car. The hospital reported that both Mr. and Mrs. Wilson received minor cuts and bruises and were admitted for observation. The children were reportedly not injured.

Turner said he was at home at the time he received the call. The Sheriff's office assisted Turner at the scene. Traffic was tied up on the highway for some time, Turner said.

Six Hospitalized In Accident On Sunday

Six persons were hospitalized at a Paducah hospital Sunday afternoon after having sustained injuries in a two car accident on Highway 88 near the Eggers' Ferry bridge yesterday shortly after noon.

The accident occurred on the hill just east of the Penton community as the two cars were both going toward the lake. According to observers at the scene of the accident, two soldiers from Fort Campbell were in a Buick car and started to pass the 1959 Nash Rambler station wagon when he saw another car coming out back in the right lane, put on his brakes which failed, and the soldier's car hit the Rambler in the rear and knocking it around and then hit it in the front end. Both cars then went over in the deep side ditch on the left hand side of the road.

A wrecker from the Cadiz Motors took the Buick to Cadiz and Lovett's Phillips 66 Service Station at Highway 88 and 90 at Aurora pulled the almost completely demolished car from the side ditch and took it to their station.

An ambulance from Cadiz was summoned and the six persons whose names were not available were taken to a hospital in Paducah. A Paducah ambulance met the Cadiz ambulance enroute.

Two state patrolmen were at the scene of the accident to direct traffic as well as the TVA man on duty at the TVA branch office.

Observers at the scene said none of the persons in the accident appeared to be in critical condition. The woman who was reported to be the driver of the Rambler was sitting on the side of the road waiting for the ambulance. The family in the Rambler car was reported to be from Paducah.

None Injured In Three Auto Accidents

Three accidents have occurred in the city limits of Murray since Friday, according to the records of the Murray Police Department.

Edgar Lincoln Howe of Murray, driving a 1964 Pontiac 2-door hardtop, was going south on South 12th Street. Howe stopped to make a left turn into a driveway when his car was hit in the rear end by the 1964 Buick 4-door hardtop, driven by Verne Hodges Snow and owned by O. A. Snow, as the Buick was also going south, according to Patrolmen Martin Wells and Max Morris, who covered the accident at 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

Another accident Saturday at 8:30 a.m. happened at 6th and Main Streets. James Dewey Scaf of Murray Route Five, driving a 1960 Ford two ton truck, owned by Ralph Board of Murray Route Three, was waiting for the traffic light to change, started up, and caught the 1964 Chevrolet 2-door, that was parked in the front fender and bumper, with the right rear tire of the truck, according to Sgt. James Brown and Patrolman Alvin Parra.

The Chevrolet was owned by William Harlan Lawrence of Hazel Route One.

An accident Friday at 3:24 p.m. occurred at 641 South and Story Avenue and was investigated by Patrolmen Max Morris and Martin Wells.

Police said Hazel Marie Lee of Dexter Route One, driving a 1959 Ford 4-door owned by Ava Lou Puckett of Hazel, was going east on Story Avenue, stopped for the stop street, and pulled out in front of the 1962 Chevy Monza 2-door hardtop, driven by Larry Dale Barrow of Dexter Route One and owned by Brandon Bros. Distributors, as it was going south on 641. The Ford hit the Chevrolet in the left front and left side. Police said.

Over the weekend the Police gave citations to two persons for reckless driving and to one person for not having an operator's license. One person was also arrested for public drunkenness, according to Charlie Marr, radio operator.

Murray State Marks Up First Win Of Season Over Morehead

By REX SANDERS
United Press International
NASHVILLE, 679 — Offense-minded Middle Tennessee had to use its defense this weekend to salvage its fourth consecutive win.
The Ohio Valley Conference club survived an aerial blitz by two Eastern Kentucky quarterbacks to take a close 14-10 come-from-behind victory.
OVC leader Austin Peay had little trouble in disposing of Western Kentucky 38-6.
In other games, Tennessee Tech won its first game of the season by easily beating East Tennessee 34-14, and Murray edged Morehead 13-12.
Middle Tennessee, co-favored for the OVC title with Austin Peay and defending champions, had to take advantage of a fumble on Eastern's four-yard line to win.
Bill Robertson had to hold off four Eastern drives inside the 20-yard line and stop the passing of quarterbacks Larry Marmie and Jim Quice. The Eastern signal callers hit on 23 of 34 passes for 356 yards. Rodney Rogers passed for two touchdowns and ran for another in the Governor's win over Western. He hit Tim Chilcutt for a 36-yard Halfback Tom Gianelli plunged over from the two early in the third quarter for the winning score.

Eastern Kentucky will be at East Tennessee and Western Kentucky will host Tennessee Tech in day games this weekend while Austin Peay will play host to Morehead in a night game.

Los Angeles Dodgers Tie Up World Series 2-2 With Base Running And Bunting Offense; It's Koufax And Kaat Today

By LEO H. PETERSEN
UPI Sports Editor

LOS ANGELES, 679 — The Los Angeles Dodgers, their base running speed and bunting offense back in full bloom, and the faulty-fielding Minnesota Twins both came back with their ace lefthanded pitchers Monday in the fifth game of the World Series, all even at two games each.

Finishing their home park a tonic after dropping the first two games on the road, the Dodgers called on Sandy Koufax, considered the best pitcher in the game, to put them in the driver's seat before the Series returns to Minneapolis Wednesday.

The odds-makers figured that Koufax, despite his second game defeat, would return to form and they made the Dodgers 9-5 favorites to win Monday's game and are favored to go on to take the Series.

Koufax faced Jim Kaat, the southpaw who beat him 5-1 in the second game and an 18-game winner for the Twins. Koufax won 26 for the Dodgers during the regular season.

Manager Walter Alton of the Dodgers, who feels his team does better when its backs are against the wall, predicted, "we'll do all right from now on, just as we did the past two days."

"I told my players to forget those first two losses in Minnesota and just play like they did all season," Alton said. "We did just that and we've got a pretty good pitching going for us. But they have, too, so it's foolish to make any predictions."

Alton Pleaded

He admitted, though, he was happy the way the Dodgers played in winning Saturday's game, 4-0, and Sunday's contest, 7-2, to get back on even terms with the Twins.

Manager Sam Mele was not at all discouraged because the Twins had lost that two-game advantage.

"It now becomes a three game series," he said. "We'll do all right. I'm not at all discouraged and neither are my players."

But he added that he would have a meeting with his players before the game and "go over the mistakes we made out there."

Actually, the Twins were charged with two errors as big Don Drysdale pitched the Dodgers to victory over Jim Madaio, Grant.

But the Twins made many other errors of commission, failing to cover first base and neglecting to cut off outfield throws. Against the Dodgers, you pay for mistakes like that and the Twins did.

The Dodgers showed some power, too, coming up with two home runs — by Wes Parker and Lou Johnson. They weren't the key blows in the Dodgers' offense, however. Bunts, infield hits and base running speed carried the Dodgers to victory.

"Well," observed Alton, calling his club one of the great bunting teams of all time, "we gave them a sort of blend of things—six infield hits, two home runs and two singles to the outfield."

Then he paid tribute to his play-calling, Maury Wills, the fleet Dodger shortstop, who set up the first Dodger run.

"Wills showed the other players that you don't have to hit the long ball to get on base—that you can bunt and run. He made us a team of bunters and we have been doing it well."

Mele, however, refused to criticize any of his players, although admitting that Grant and second baseman Frank Quiliet were slow in covering first base.

"Those things happen," Mele said. "The Dodgers haven't scored us with their speed. We cope with it the first two games and we'll cope with it again."

Pitching Set

Although Tuesday is an off-day for travel and the Series returns to Minneapolis on Wednesday, Alton already is set with his pitching rotation. He will go with Claude Osteen, who blanked the Twins and Camilo Pascual in Saturday's game. Osteen, who played with the Washington Senators prior to being traded to the Dodgers at the end of last season, has won six straight games since his Series triumph.

Mele, however, refused to discuss his pitching plans for the sixth game.

"I'll just wait and see," he said. "There was speculation that he might call on rookie lefthander Jim Merrill instead of Osteen."

If a seventh game should be necessary, Mele left no doubt he would go with Grant. But Alton said he wasn't looking that far ahead. Alton pointed out that Drysdale would have his usual three days rest and "I guess I also could go with Sandy with two days' rest."

The Dodgers again were without pepper-pot second baseman, Jim LeFebvre, sidelined with a bruised right heel, suffered in Saturday's game.

Dick Tracy will fill in for LeFebvre, whom Alton said "could be available for the sixth game."

Tracewski will bat eighth and with a lefthander going for the Twins, Johnson will bat fourth and lefthander Ron Fairly fifth.

Mele made two outfield changes — putting in right-handed hitters Joe Nieseck and Bob Altman instead of the left-handed swingers, Sandy Valdespino and Jimmie Hall.

The Dodgers started right out showing the Twins that the opposition can make no mistakes against them. Wills bunted to first baseman Don Minner and was credited with an infield hit when both Grant and Quiliet were slow to cover first base. Wills, the major league base stealing king for a single season, then stole second. He went to third when Wills Davis hit a grounder to Minner, beating it out for an infield hit. Fairly then forced Davis at second and Wills scored.

The Dodgers added another run in the second, again without hitting the ball out of the infield. This time Parker beat out a bunt between Grant and Minner, stole second, went to third on a wild pitch. He scored when Quiliet failed to come up with John Roseboro's grounder.

Killebrew Connected

Harmon Killebrew got one of those runs back for the Twins in the third with a home run but the Dodgers matched that in the bottom half with Parker's home run. In the top of the sixth Tony Oliva hit a home run for Minnesota.

It was 3-2 in favor of Los Angeles when the Dodgers broke the game open with a three-run rally in the sixth. Gilliam out at third and when the infielders failed to make the cut-off, Davis went to second. With the Twins infield drawn in, Fairly singled just beyond the reach of shortstop Zoilo Versalles and Gilliam and Davis scored. And when Nieseck tried to throw Davis out at the plate, Fairly went to second. He later scored as Minnesota mopped up Johnson's sacrifice bunt attempt. Al Worthington was pitching at the time, having relieved Grant after Davis' single, and Johnson bunted the ball to him. But the Twins failed to cover first, and Worthington's last throw was not in time to get Johnson and Fairly scored.

Then Johnson homered off Bill Pless, the third Minnesota pitcher. Drysdale gave up only three hits in addition to those home runs by Killebrew and Oliva and struck out

11. Eight of them were on called third strikes.

It was the typical Dodger pattern — speed, bunts and pitching. And the Twins may look for more of it.

NOTRE DAME BLANKS ARMY 17-0 — Before a capacity crowd of 61,000 fans at Shea Stadium, N.Y., Notre Dame zeroed in on Army in their 37th meeting and blanked a tough Army team 17-0. Early game action shows Notre Dame line-backer David Martin (No. 55) tackling Army quarterback Fred Barofsky (No. 18) after a ten-yard gain. N.D. led 7-0 at the half.

OSTEEN STOPS TWINS 4-0 — Behind the 5th pitch of Claude Osteen, the Dodgers took the third game of the 1965 World Series before a record home crowd of 55,934. The final play of the third game shows Dodgers shortstop Maury Wills leaping high to miss the Twins' Tony Oliva and to complete a double play to first baseman Wes Parker to give the Dodgers a 4-0 win. Osteen is now 6-0 against the Twins.

Woman's World

His Heart Ails Often Her Fault

NEW YORK (UPI) — A trio of Chicago physicians suggests that it's a wife man who marries a woman his equal instead of superior.

The three say that social friction caused by a wife's superiority in education or social standing doubles the risk of heart disease among husbands. This is one of the results of a special study of social stresses in heart disease conducted by Drs. Adrian M. Ostfeld, Richard B. Shekelle, and Gregory Paul of the University of Illinois. A report on their study appears in the current issue of Medical World News, a news magazine for physicians.

The social stresses were found to have played a role in heart diseases that suddenly developed in 61 middle-aged men. These men were among 1,632 chosen for observation because they were in a critical age group but had no signs of heart ailment.

The doctors reported the risk of developing heart disease doubles among men whose wives are of higher social levels or who are better educated by contrast, there was no more than normal risk among men whose job status exceeded their educational level, or who earned less than others in

A. Bell Really Started All This

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) — Frank and Caroline Hyde have your number. That is, if you were listed in any of the 20,000 telephone directories the Oakland couple has collected in the past 30 years.

This unique collection of telephone books from all over the world fills floor-to-ceiling shelves — nearly 1,000 square feet — in the basement of the Hyde home.

Hyde, 71, said the collection is "irreplaceable."

"I couldn't estimate the cost," he said. "But if you gave me $100,000, I'd let you have the whole world."

Browsing through the unusual "library" is a geography lesson in itself. There are directories from Malta, Havana, Trinidad, Singapore, Hong Kong and, of course, the United States. A 1950 Paris edition weighs 8½ pounds.

Most California cities are represented. Los Angeles dominates the several dozen shelves of state directories.

Where did the Hydes get the books?

their community, or who had risen in society.

Shades Roll To Decorative Role

NEW YORK (UPI) — Remember when the window shade was for keeping out the sun? Now, shades are playing a new role as an integral part of decorating schemes.

Rooms at the National Decoration and Design Show, Oct. 9-17 at the Seventh Regiment Armory, are typical of what's happening to blinds. All rooms were done by members of the American Institute of Decorators (AID).

Paul Krause used shades as the only window treatment in a room in a black and white mood. The shades were black and white screen printed and the same tole pattern in matching fabric was the wall covering.

A room by Tom Woods for Reglow carpets showed how shades and rugs go together. Bold blue shades were hung, reverse roll (yes, you can buy the reverse roll these days), within the frames of large windows, coordinating the color with wall-to-wall carpeting in a mixture of turquoise, ultramarine, olive and black. The colors blended, too, with a rug "painted" by Dorothy Lubes, an abstract in black and white touched with turquoise, which was hung behind the sofa.

Frederick Davis made shades "elaborate" the walls literally in his flexible summer-winter setting for a fabrics company. Schemacher. The fabric-covered walls were punctuated by valent stripes at three foot intervals. These added vertical interest to the background, and in summer held four paid landscape shades which, because they are set within the stripes and hung reverse roll at the ceiling, can transform one wall. Pulled down to floor level, they give the window end of the room a completely different color scheme for the "slipcovered" part of the year.

The whites no longer go into hiding when winter comes. So much white is in the fall and winter fashion collections the most dry cleaners stand to clean up on cleaning bills. White's great for flats too. Billy Victor shows them in furs, leathers, velours, fells and wools.

Just one wig in a woman's wardrobe no longer meets the requirements. Reid-Meredith, a New York concern concerned with making slip-on and pin-on confiture additions, recommends a wig wardrobe. Its parts: the basic wig to cover the whole head, a switch chignon 24 inches long, a five-inch oval-shaped wiglet, a 10-inch crescent shaped one, and a half wig. With these, just about any hairdo a woman wishes can be arranged, said the firm.

Dear Abby . . .

Skunked Again!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Last year you gave me some sound advice in regard to the purchase of baby skunks for my grandsons. Mrs. Pearson, you will recall, was loathe to have the skunks, but since I had promised them, you advised me to carry out my promise. I did, and everything worked out splendidly. They are adorable, well-behaved and a joy to my grandsons. And Mrs. Pearson even learned to like the skunks.

However, we now face another problem. My grandsons are going back to Los Angeles, and their stepmother says no skunks. American Airlines has agreed to carry the skunks, but the boys want their skunks, but the lady with whom they will live from now on says no. What is your advice?

DEAR MR. PEARSON: When the lady married your son, she knew he had little boys. But she didn't know the boys had little skunks. Her objections are based on prejudice. Perhaps if your wife assured her they were obedient, well-behaved and a joy to the boys, she'd reconsider. I hope so.

DEAR ABBY: We are a group of housewives who read the letter from the woman signed "LARRY, ASHAMED AND DESSERTABLE." She was disgruntled and never got her housework done. That fits us to a "T." On the other hand, our husbands don't do anything around the house, either. The basement is a mess and repairs and painting never get done unless we hire someone to do it. If we do our part, shouldn't our husbands do theirs?

DEAR BROOKFIELD, WISC.: You, too, must have felt that after they've done a day's work elsewhere they should be able to come home and relax. Housekeeping is YOUR job, and the odd jobs around the house will have to wait until the Lord and Master gets around to doing them. It's still a man's world, girls, even though most of what he has is in his wife's name.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married for 18 years. We have five lovely children and have always been a very close and happy family. My husband was married before I met him and I was told that his wife got the divorce. Last night she telephoned him from another state, where she now lives (after 18 years), and she asked my husband to send her a copy of the divorce papers. She said she was trying to adopt a child and the welfare people told her they needed a copy. My husband asked her, "Didn't YOU get the divorce?" She said, "No, I thought YOU got it." Abby, I am worried sick over this. Can anything be done at this late date? The lives and reputation of our whole family are at stake.

The fashion classic, the jumper, is back, especially on the campus scene. Watch for jumpers in corduroy teamed with brightly-colored calico or paisley printed blouses. Bananas have virtually no fat. The smooth, apparently oily texture of the pulp may cause you to believe that bananas contain considerable oil, but their fat content — weight for weight is on par with that of lettuce.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture recommends at least one serving per day of citrus fruit, tomatoes or raw cabbage.

Shriver admitted the situation at Breckinridge was bad, and that the program there was "not as good as it should have been."

He said an official investigation discounted this.
"What really was happening was that something like 45 enrollees got into a hassle which started as a fight between two groups of boys, with Negro and white boys on both sides," he said. "It was reported originally as a racial incident. It was not."

"It was whites and Negroes fighting whites and Negroes, presumably over an apparent protection racket that some enrollees presumably were indulging in."

The only person injured in the fracas, he said, was a man who made the "tactical error" of driving a firetruck to the scene.

The men who got out of the firetruck carrying a wrench got "bit up," Shriver said.

Belvedere Is Completely New For 1966

The intermediate size Plymouth Belvedere for 1966 has a wholly new appearance, major chassis improvements and a wide range of optional equipment. A production version of the famous 426-cubic inch hemispherical head V-8 engine will be offered in 1966. There are six Belvedere body types and 18 models. Shown here is the Satellite two-door hardtop. Sedans, hardtops and convertibles will have a 116-inch wheelbase, and station wagons a 117-inch wheelbase. Fully unitized bodies with curved glass windows and fresh body lines make the new Belvedere look longer and lower than its 1965 counterpart. The standard V-8 engine in the Belvedere series has 273 cubic inch displacement with a two-barrel carburetor. Other engine options besides the 426 "hemi" are the 318 and 361-cubic inch V-8s using regular fuel, and a high performance version of the 383-cubic inch V-8. Safety features include a new type of inside door handle, and new power brake boosters.

Kentucky's universities, colleges and vocational schools must expand to meet the need for better education and job training for our people.

Modern Highways attract tourists and new industry... create more jobs... help our rural economy.

Our new parks attract visitors and stimulate our economy. We need to continue the successful state park development program now under way.

Health facilities must be expanded to take better care of our mentally ill and to provide new or expanded county health centers.

Your vote on November 2nd can help pass the Kentucky Bond Issue which will raise the money we need for new highways, schools, parks, hospitals. Passing the Bond Issue, which amounts to $176 million, will enable us to get a total of $685 million in Federal Matching Funds and money from other sources, so that we can meet the needs of our state while keeping Kentucky taxes low. The Kentucky Better Roads Council.

Let's not miss the boat!

The $139 million of highway money provided by the Kentucky Bond Issue will entitle us to $597 million in Federal Matching Highway Funds for the building of primary and secondary roads, as well as the new Appalachian system and Interstate system.

Other surrounding states have already passed bond issues entitling them to federal grants. We must pass the Kentucky Bond Issue if we are to get our fair share of federal money.
